2011 texts

These texts (about 10 000 wordforms) were recorded and analyzed with the support of the Presidium of the Russian Academy of Sciences, program "Corpus linguistics", projects 3.7 "A corpus of spoken texts in dialects of Ossetic" and 3.8 "A corpus of oral narratives in literary Iron". Some of the texts have also been recorded in 2008-2009 in Dargavs (North Ossetia) and in 2010 in Tskhinval (South Ossetia). The texts have been recorded by Oleg Belyaev, Arseniy Vydrin, Julia Mazurova, Natalia Serdobolskaya, Natalia Stoyanova and Madina Darchieva, transcribed and translated by Madina Darchieva and interlinearized by Oleg Belyaev and Arseniy Vydrin.

We would like to extend a special personal gratitude to Madina Darchieva and Zalina Kusaeva, without whose help the completion of this project would not have been possible.

2013 texts

The transcription of texts and their translation into Russian was done by Madina Darchieva, interlinear gloss and translation into English — by Arseniy Vydrin and Julia Mazurova. In 2013 as part of the projects "A spoken corpus of the main dialects of contemporary Ossetic" (project leader Julia Mazurova) and "The collection of data for the National and Spoken corpora of Ossetic" (project leader Zalina Kusaeva) supported by the programme of the Presidium of the Russian Academy of Sciences "Corpus linguistics" spoken texts in the Iron dialect of Ossetic have been transcribed, translated and analyzed. The number of tokens in these texts is 20 000. The overall number of tokens in all Iron texts is 60 000.

Digor texts analyzed as part of these projects are available here.

We are thankful to the employees of the "Alania" radio station and in particular to Lyudmila Gubaeva, the author of the programme "Classmates", for providing us with the audio files of the radio programmes.
